

Sue's course taught me how to focus, be aware and care about how I dress, therefore helping me understand how to create a positive impression in my workplace and in my social life. Even though I am successful in my career, now everyone has taken notice of how I look and that feels fantastic!

I have always found the fashion industry very confusing and overwhelming, but with Sue's knowledge and expertise I now feel confident about creating and showcasing 'me' through my own personalized signature wardrobe that has just the right basics and accessories for my needs.

Knowing my body type (before it never would have crossed my mind) and that "tailoring clothes to fit me" was a solution to having great fit and a winning look were huge learning moments for me. I knew fit was important but just assumed I had to make do. Now, I know the difference between 'trying off the rack' and 'buying off the rack.'

This learning experience was very individualized and Sue helped me gain the confidence I needed to take that step - the time to search and find out what would work for me, what image I wanted and what look would showcase my best self. I gained the tools that I can use to continue to help me grow as a person and to be able to approach every part of my life with confidence. This class was a lot of fun, was informative and the time just flew by. I didn't want it to end. This course fulfilled all my expectations and then some!

Lynn Nyman
UWO Student, 2012

